Township Reorganizes with Austerity, Borough with Window-Dressing on New Year's Day

Not all Borough Republicans were slaughtered on New Year's Day and in the Township, Republican Elizabeth Hutter praised Democrat Jay Bleiman for "gracefully" accepting the post of vice-chairman of Committee and pledged her support.

Because Committee now has two Republicans and two Democrats, a chairman -- or "mayor" -- can't be named until the fifth seat is filled and the deadlock broken. Republicans are filing an appeal of Superior Court Judge George Y. Schoch's ruling that Committee may fill the seat with a temporary appointment of a Democrat. The seat is vacant because a defective voting machine left the election in doubt.

For the first time in several years, both Borough and Township held reorganization rites at noon New Year's Day, which meant that nobody could attend both. In recent years, the Township has met at 11 and the Borough at noon. The return to a simultaneous hour, many observers said, made a distressing and unwelcome cleavage between the Princetons.

Brevity and a certain austerity marked Township ceremonies, which were over in half an hour. Mr. Bleiman, in view of the political uncertainties, eschewed his customary address.

But in the Borough, they rang in all the changes. Or, at least, they banged the bell in honor of the Bicentennial, the bell of the U.S.S. Princeton, which hangs permanently outside Borough Hall, was struck 200 times. Governor Brendan T. Byrne and his family, Council members and high school students all contributed to the stroking and Council member Martin P. Lombardo, whose idea it was to ring the bell, reserved the final stroke for his own hand.

Then, inside, the standing-room-only audience sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" and even "Happy Birthday, America." The leader of the Girl Scout color guard suggested the latter, and although the audience was slightly surprised, everybody sang gamely along with the Scouts.

Mr. Lombardo was elected president of Council, succeeding Joseph P. Moore. The president serves as acting mayor when the mayor himself is absent.

Both Mr. Lombardo and Mr. Moore are in the final year of their second terms as Council members. It is reported that Mr. Moore won't seek a third term, and that Princeton High School guidance counsellor Marvin Trotman will run for the seat. Both Mr. Moore and Mr. Trotman are black. Mr. Lombardo hasn't said whether he will run again.

Barbara Sigmund, re-elected to Council in November, formally resigned her seat, and will now devote full time to her new position as an appointed Mercer County Freeholder. Jan Schaefer was nominated and unanimously elected to fill Mrs.

Sigmund's position until the next general election.

The Republican blood-letting expected by many observers -- including the Republicans -- didn't take place. This Council is not only all Democratic; five of its six members believe strongly in party loyalty and have been outspoken in their belief that Democrats should be named to volunteer boards, not solely because they belong to the party but because their philosophies could be expected to be more in tune with those of the all-Democratic governing body.

These were the five who opposed Mrs. Sigmund in recent intra-party skirmishes. The sixth Council member, Murray Medvin, an ally of Mrs. Sigmund, doesn't always see along the same lines as his colleagues.

In any case, Republican fears proved largely unfounded and several key Republicans were returned to their volunteer posts.

Republican Margaret Penick, defeated in the 1973 Council race and promptly named to the Planning Board in one of the most controversial appointments of 1974, was re-appointed by the Democrats, in acknowledgement of her environmental expertise. She will serve a five-year term.

Thomas J. Cawley, former Republican Councilman, was re-appointed to a five-year term on the

Plans for Town Houses on Quarry Site Pressed In Face Of Neighborhood Drive for Park There

"I believe there's going to be a park on this quarry site," Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley told the Planning Board audience Tuesday night, adding that he expected word from the state about the Borough's application for Green Acres money to buy the land, "in a week or two."

Meanwhile, emphasized newly-elected Planning Board vice-chairman Margen Penick, land-owner Charles LaPlaca has every right to present his application for site plan approval, which is why he was before the Board on Tuesday.

Mr. LaPlaca would like to build 32 condominium units in seven buildings on the land he owns at the dead end of Spruce Street adjoining the Lloyd Terrace housing project for the elderly. The property is characterized by a filled-in quarry at the south. It is on the 1967 Borough Master Plan as a park, and Mr. LaPlaca's attorney, James Britt, told the board his client wasn't challenging that designation.

The Princeton Quarry Park Association in its newsletter told members this week that the Association learned on Friday that the state had completed its review of the Borough's application for Green Acres money. State officials were "very impressed" with the application, the Association said. State Senator Anne Martindell, the Quarry Park organization told its members, has written the Commissioner of Environmental Protection urging approval of the application.

Under state law, the Borough has the right to exercise a "stop" provision any time, in regard to land earmarked for a park on a Master Plan. This means any project can be held up for a year, provided the municipality pays the property-owner an option fee.

Board the basin isn't necessary, in spite of flood problems in the back yards of people facing Hamilton Avenue, down-slope from the quarry site. The land has a lot more run-off now because it's rubble and without sod, Mr. Quinby said, and the cubic-footage of the basin is too small to make any difference in the level of nearby Harry's Brook, anyway.

Jerome Rose, of the board, said he wanted to know the county's reasons for requiring the basin.

Flood Hazard. Members of the Quarry Park Association charge that the development would pose a serious flood hazard to Harry's Brook. They say the pond would hold only three inches of rain before flooding, and they say that if the pond had been in existence during the two July floods of 1975, 250,000 gallons of water would have been dumped into the brook at the height of both storms.

The Borough's site plan review committee -- the proposal was made before the joint site plan board was established -- declared in a memo read Tuesday night, that it "still strongly endorses use of this property as a public park, 'but has no objections to the LaPlaca project in general if housing is to go on the site. The project was still under discussion at press time."

Hans K. Sander, re-elected chairman of the Board at Tuesday's meeting did not preside at the LaPlaca hearing, because his firm is Hellmuth, Obata and Kassabaum.

In other action, the Planning Board granted sub-division and site plan approval to Design Interface for the 14 town houses on Willow Street, where the University Cleaners plant is now located.

The board learned that Timothy Sheehan's 146 Dundas Corporation has filed suit in connection with the Borough Zoning Board's grant of variances to Design Interface for this project. J. Robert Hillier, of Design Interface, told the board the suit charges the board acted capriciously in granting the variances. Design Interface and the Zoning Board have answered the suit and filed counter charges, Mr. Hillier told the Planning Board.

The Zoning Board gave Design Interface permission to build more houses -- 14 -- than the zoning ordinance provides. It also allowed the developer to use the townhouses' forecourts for occasional parking.

Neighbors of the project expressed uneasiness about traffic, especially traffic that might veer off into an ancient and rutted way known as Branch Alley, which connects Willow and Park Place.

Willow is a private street. Nobody knows who owns Branch, although Borough engineer George Olexa remarked that he never heard of a piece of land that didn't pay taxes.

The question of just who would repair additional and deepening pot-holes on Branch occupied board and audience happily for a long time, and Mr. Olexa emphasized that the Borough didn't want Branch -- or Willow -- as a municipal street. As a condition for approval, the board asked Mr. Hillier to construct a beveled curb at the Branch-Willow intersection which would deter people short-cutting through but not hamper emergency trucks.

In the discussion, Mr. Olexa told the board flatly that new site plan regulations are unenforceable. Requirements such as retaining vegetation "where possible" or keeping construction dust to a "minimum" were difficult to define, unenforceable and maybe not even binding, legally, Mr. Olexa said.

HOME IS DAMAGED

By Early Morning Fire. The Great Road home of William Sayen 3d was damaged by fire believed to have started in a furnace room early Monday morning. No one was injured.

The cause of the fire is still under investigation, according to Chief William Karch, who said that the area of the origin "was pretty well burned." Township police were notified at 6:53 by the Montgomery Fire Department and a general alarm was sounded. Mr. Sayen's home, "Springvale," is just beyond Ridgeview Road near the Princeton-Montgomery border.

Chief Karch said that the fire in the furnace room burned a hole through the floor to a den above. The home also suffered extensive smoke and water damage.

When Mrs. Sayen discovered the fire, she asked the telephone operator to notify the Blawenburg Fire Company. When the Montgomery Township-based firemen arrived and saw that the home was in Princeton Township, they notified Township police. Both companies battled the blaze.

Chief Karch said that there was sufficient water aboard trucks at the scene to quell the fire. Had it been bigger, (the house is located far back from the road) he said that firemen were prepared to work directly from a hydrant or to pump water from a pond on the property.

Firemen were able to bring the blaze under control in about an hour and were at the scene an hour and a half. The mass of equipment temporarily forced the closing of the Great Road to traffic.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayen were the only ones at home at the time.

Starting the New Year right, here at the Country Mouse. We had the first employee, employer relations meeting this week and I finally got Edie and Dania to agree not to refer to me as the Big Cheese anymore. That certainly isn't too much to ask. Of course I had to agree to let them call me "Old Whiskers" but that seemed a lot more dignified for the New Year.

Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority, even though he is now a Township resident.

"We couldn't do without him," said Borough Administrator Robert F. Mooney. Mr. Cawley, an engineer, was formerly municipal engineer for the Borough. He was replaced on the Sewer Operating Committee by R. Wood Tate.

James Sayen, another Republican and an environmentalist, retained his position on the Environmental Committee.

A Visible Casualty. The most visible Republican casualty was Charles St. John, denied re-appointment to the Zoning Board. Appointed by Mayor Robert W. Cawley's predecessor, also a Republican mayor, he had served on the board since 1967. Mr. St. John ran unsuccessfully for Council on the Republican ticket in 1974.

In his place, Democrats named Alan Chimacoff, 28 Jefferson Road, a young architect who is on the faculty of the School of Architecture at Princeton and is a partner in the firm of Chimacoff-Peterson, with offices at 134 Nassau.

Albert Hinds, first named to the Zoning Board in 1961, was re-appointed. To replace Norman Williams on the Planning Board -- Mr. Williams has moved out of Princeton. Council appointed financial waters ahead and promised "close budget scrutiny. He explained that Council's new Volunteerism committee -- he is the only member -- has been set up to work for broader representation on volunteer bodies.

Mrs. Sigmund, recalling the sparring matches of past months, had a few parting words on the issue of partisan politics.

"I'm happy to see," she said, "that in the appointments being made today my colleagues have revised their previous statements. They have placed themselves squarely in the great American political tradition of partisan elections combined with bi-partisan boards."

"I come to you with a different background," said Mrs. Schneier, "that of a partisan political leader. But through that work, I've come to gain an understanding of the needs of the people."

"Distinctions based solely

In other key appointments, Council voted to keep Mr. Moore as Police Commissioner and Mr. Medvin as Fire Commissioner. Gus Escher, newly elected to Council, will be captain of the finance team. Mr. Lombardo will take on a new assignment, head of a committee on Volunteerism. He will also be Council's liaison to the Board of Health and will retain the Senior Citizen assignment.

Mr. Moore will be Civil Rights liaison, Mr. Escher will join the public transportation advisory committee, Nelson van den Blink will be representative on the Sewer Operating Committee. Mrs. Schneier will be Council's liaison on the Housing Authority and will head Personnel and Housing committees for Council. She will also assume the Recreation job.

Mr. Medvin will remain on the Planning Board. This post is held for the duration of the incumbent's term of office and Mr. Medvin has two more years to go.

New Year, New Thoughts. At Borough Hall, the Rev. Leon Gipson gave the invocation. Then everybody made speeches. (Mayor Cawley's appears in full on page 24) Council President Lombardo warned of dark on political affiliations of who is named to fill the fifth seat.

"Three very competent women," he added.

Volunteer appointments weren't made until Monday night's meeting, and all were re-appointments. Vacancies still remain on the Flood Control Committee -- Dwight O. North resigned in protest over Committee's approval of revised site plans for the Yedlin public housing project -- on the Board of Health, the Environmental Commission, the Public Library board of trustees and a one-year term on the Planning Board.

No one was appointed Committee representative to the Planning Board. Abbot Low Moffat, who may or may not have been elected to Committee and only that voting machine knows for sure, held the Planning Board seat.

All other Committee assignments are temporary until the fifth member is named.

Coming and Going. All this took about an hour and a half, and Township officials had been to the Hook and Ladder firehouse reception, munched and sipped and departed before the Borough even got there.

In Township Hall, before a scattering of officials' relatives, the Rev. Daphne Hawkes of the Trinity staff, gave the invocation. No one could recall that a woman had ever before performed this function.

Mr. Bleiman, observing newly-sworn Josie Hall and old friends Margaret Broadwater and Elizabeth Hutter, commented that Committee will have a majority of women no matter who is named to fill the fifth seat.

"Three very competent women," he added.

Two Arrests Believed to Solve Many Thefts Here

Borough police have arrested two men whom they have charged with being responsible for some two dozen breaking-and-enterings in the Borough in the last two months.

One, armed with a fully-loaded .25 caliber pistol, was arrested Saturday night after a chase by Ptl. James Agins. The other was arrested Tuesday morning at his home by Township and Borough police. Chief Michael Carnevale said that the two worked together on several of the entries.

In addition, Borough police have arrested two more men from outside the Princeton area on warrants charging them with thefts in the Borough.

Edward Vernon Jr., 23, 413 Alexander Street, was arrested Tuesday at 9:10 a.m. by Det. Timothy Huizing and Sgt. David Potts of the Township. Det. Huizing has signed complaints against Vernon charging him with 10 break-ins and two more attempted.

He is being held in $12,000 bail and faces a Borough court appearance next Wednesday. Most of the charges against him are indictable offenses, police said.

Bail Set at $10,000. Arrested Saturday night was Steven F. Fox, 21, also of 413 Alexander Street and the Bronx, N.Y. He is being held in Mercer County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail. Police have charged him with 12 entries and two attempted. In addition, he has been charged with three break-ins by Township police.

His charges: breaking and entering, larceny, possession of stolen property, possession of a firearm, possession of burglary tools. He was arraigned Sunday before Judge E. Barry Kline sitting in for Judge Philip Carchman and ordered to appear in court Wednesday.

Call Alerts Police. Police were put on Fox's trail at 6:12 Saturday evening when a resident from the Tulane-Wiggins street area called police to report seeing a light go on in a house at 25 Wiggins, which was believed to be vacant.

Ptl. Agins responded and was met at the door by Fox. When the officer asked to see the owner of the property, Fox bolted. Ptl. Agins chased him down Wiggins.

Two Shots Fired. At one point in the pursuit, Fox, police said, turned and pointed a weapon at the patrolman, but did not fire. Ptl. Agins, in turn, fired two shots at the fleeing suspect.

The chase carried to the service station on the corner of Hulfish and Witherspoon, where the officer caught sight of the suspect again and ordered him to halt. Instead, he ran across Witherspoon into the parking lot and attempted to hide in an alley on Spring.

Again he was seen by Ptl. Agins who, assisted by Ptl. Robert Mucciarelli, arrested and handcuffed the suspect. In Fox's pocket, police said they found a loaded .25 caliber pistol which was cocked with one round in the chamber. Police said the pistol was one of the items he had stolen from the Wiggins Street home. He had allegedly assembled other articles in a blanket ready to be removed when he was interrupted by police.

Police also found in Fox's possession at headquarters a bank book and foreign coins taken from a Madison Street home. They reported that he had allegedly broken in a rear screen and door to get inside.

The police investigation was continued over the weekend by Det. Huizing, Det. Charles Harris, Sgt. Thomas Mischaud and Ptl. Agins. As a result of the investigation, Fox was charged with the following break-ins and larcenies:

112 Alexander Street, Nov. 28; Prospect Avenue apartment, Dec. 4; 100 Stockton Street apartment, Dec. 7; Edgehill Street home, Dec. 9 (also an attempted entry into another home on Edgehill the same date); Alexander Street residence, Dec. 12; attempted entry on Bayard Lane, Dec. 13; two entries on N. Tulane Street, Dec. 31; and four more - William Street, 110 and 108 Stockton and Walker Hall - all entries occurring between December 14 and 31.

Vernon was charged with these entries: 112 Alexander, Nov. 28, $150 stereo taken; 100 Stockton, Dec. 7, clothing, jewelry and cash totaling $700; Edgehill home, Dec. 9, $200 Tiffany gold mesh bracelet; Alexander Street

Another $390 in contributions to the TOWN TOPICS Christmas Fund during the past week brought the total received as a result of the 1975 Appeal to $4035.67. It is gratifying to report that the amount is nearly 25 percent greater than that for the previous year.

In addition, breaking three windows of an Edgehill home Dec. 9 with intent to steal and an attempted entry into a Bayard Lane home four days later.

Two More Arrested. Det. Huizing last week arrested David Sallie, 21, Lewisbrook Road, Lawrenceville, and charged him with entering a Wiggins Street home October 23 and stealing jewelry worth $3000, several cameras and an electric saw. Released in $250 bail, he is scheduled to appear in court February 4.

Robert Aiman, 18, New Road, Kendall Park, was arrested the same day as Sallie by Det. Ronald Holliday and charged with breaking into Irish's Express Office near the railway station on University Place and taking an undetermined amount of cash.

Aiman was released, pending an appearance in Borough court Wednesday.

TAXI FARES UP

If Ordinance Passes. A taxi ride will go from $1 to $1.50 under an ordinance to be introduced Tuesday by Borough Council. The new rate structure is basically the one requested by taxi-owners.

Bright lights have a dim effect on Princeton theatre-goers, Sameric Theatres has learned. The firm notified Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week that the controversial new illuminated Playhouse sign will be removed and the nice old wooden one put back. A number of Princeton residents had written letters to newspapers protesting the sign's appearance (TOWN TOPICS' Mailbox, January 1.) Mayor Cawley announced this week that Superior Court Judge George Y. Schoch says Travelers Insurance, the Borough's carrier, is liable for any damages the Borough may sustain as a result of litigation with Timothy J. Sheehan. The judge had already ruled that Travelers must pay the Borough's legal expenses, but he had reserved judgment on damages.

LET THE SUNSHINE IN
Meetings to Be Open. It's never been that dark around Borough and Township Halls, so the state's new "sunshine" law that goes into effect January 19 probably won't matter much.

This is the "open meetings" law requiring public bodies to meet publicly, and to tell the public when they're meeting. For $12 a year, anybody in town can subscribe to the 1976 meeting schedule, including revisions and advance notice, of either Borough or Township governing bodies - $24 if you want both. If you want to save the $12, you can examine these notices on municipal hall bulletin boards.

In the Township, where regular meetings are held the first and third Mondays, the second Monday's work session will now be open to the public. On the first and third Mondays, the work session that starts at 7:30, half an hour before the regular meeting, will also be open.

The public will be asked not to participate in these working meetings. This stricture is in accord with the new law, according to municipal attorney Gordon Griffin.

The Township has also scheduled three Saturday morning work meetings on the municipal budget, and the public is invited to these, too.

In a Word...

Snow?

No

At least that's what the Man has decided for the moment. Sunday, the forecast for Tuesday said possible snow. By Monday, that was out and heavy snow was predicted for Thursday. Next reading, and that standing at press-time, was possible snow on Friday.

The mid-week move toward milder weather is to be replaced by sharply colder weather for the weekend. Meantime, the outlook for all of January calls for temperatures distinctly above normal--a trend hardly set during the first week, when temperature readings in the teens were prevalent.

They will be held at 9:30 a.m. January 24 and 31 and February 7 in Township Hall.

Borough Council's monthly agenda sessions -- this Thursday at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall for January's -- have always been open to the public. Few people ever attend.

STEPS OFF BUS

Hit By Car. A 22-year old pedestrian was struck by a car last week moments after she alighted from a bus that had stopped at N. Harrison and Terhune.

Police said Carolyn P. Yoder, 133 Meadowbrook Drive, who had walked around in front of the bus and was struck by a car driven by John W. Trantum, 42, 53 Dorann Avenue.

Ms. Yoder was treated at Princeton Medical Center for head lacerations. The accident scene was clear when Ptl. Peter Savalli arrived and he had to reconstruct what had happened from statements from witnesses.

Cyclist Thrown on Hood. A 14-year old bicyclist received a concussion and sprained ankle early last week when he was struck by a car at the intersection of Spruce and Maple Streets.

The victim, Clair Henninger, 22 Clearview Avenue, was thrown from his bike by the impact and landed on the hood of a car driven by Lisa Brown, 197 Valley Road. He slid to the ground when the car managed to stop some 45 feet away.

There were no charges by Ptl. John Holcombe who noted in his report that the youth had apparently entered the intersection with lack of due caution.

Hits Parked Car. Rea Classeo, 81, Cherry Hill Road, was charged with careless driving last week by Ptl. William Hunter after her car veered to the right and hit a parked car on Witherspoon Street near Spring.

The impact from the 7:30 a.m. accident pushed the car forward 24 feet. It was parked by Cynthia A. DeLong of 4455 Province Line Road.

Mrs. Classen was treated for facial cuts. Her car had to be towed away.

GASOLINE? UP

For Municipal Users. When a municipally-owned car has an empty gas tank, it takes more dollars to fill it than it used to -- just like a taxpayer's sedan.

The joint bid for Borough, Township and the Princeton school system was awarded to Atlantic's pumps at the special Township Committee meeting held December 30.

Prices are up almost exactly a nickel a gallon from a year ago: regular gas is 39 cents, unleaded is 41 cents and premium is 43 cents. Atlantic was the only bidder.

Diesel fuel will be provided by Princeton Fuel Oil, low

$1100 CAMERA STOLEN
From Student's Room. The last day of the year was a sad one for a Blair Hall student on the Princeton University campus.

On that day he discovered that someone had stolen from his room his Nikon camera and four lenses with a combined value of $1100, his pocket calculator ($135) and sleeping bag ($20). Police said there were no signs of forced entry.

The same day an employee of the Garden Theater told police that a black and white 8-inch television set valued at $142 had been removed from the manager's office sometime during the evening.

Sgt. Ralph Procaccino investigated on Friday morning an entry into the real estate office of Helen Van Cleve, 9 Mercer Street. A window on the north side of the building had been broken by the intruder who once inside searched desks and cabinets and scattered papers throughout the office.

A Princeton Seminary student reported Friday the theft of a $125 television set and combination radio, tape deck and record player valued at $250 from his apartment in Tennent Hall on Stockton Street. Entry, police said, was through an unlocked window.

A University student living on Dickinson Street told police Saturday that a television set, radio, portable typewriter and small stereo system had been stolen from his room while he was away during the Christmas vacation.

While the occupants were away between 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Friday, someone entered and ransacked their Princeton Seminary apartment on Stockton Street and removed a color television set, stereo system and two credit cards.

The stolen TV set was recovered Tuesday morning from a Clay Street home by Sgt. Ralph Procaccino and Det. Timothy Huizing executing a search warrant. Police have charged two men with this entry and about 25 more. (See page 3.)

$1,000 in Jewelry Taken
Between 6:30 New Year's Eve and 1:21 a.m., the same two suspects allegedly forced a rear cellar door to enter and ransack a north Tulane Street home. Taken were $700 in assorted jewelry, a $300 diamond ring and two checks for $225 and $200.

About the same time, the police charge that the same two broke a rear window to enter another home on N. Tulane, but when they discovered it vacant, police said, they left by the front door.

Earlier in the week, Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt while making a routine check of unoccupied homes, found a window open in an Elm Road home. In checking later with the owners, police determined that nothing had been stolen.

Township police report one break-in and an attempted entry last week.

A $150 stereo and $100 television set were stolen

Bus Schedule Shifts
Lack of demand will terminate the 5:30 p.m. Loop Bus run as of Monday.

It was added early in the fall when requests for later service were voiced during public hearings. However, ridership has been consistently low on that run.

Overall, ridership continues to rise, according to co-ordinator Sydney Taggart. A high of 1,935 passengers was reported for the week ending December 20. This included 82 passengers on the special Saturday Inner Loop shopping bus.

between 6 Friday evening and midnight from the home of Nancy J. Weiss, 91 Hartley Avenue by thieves who ransacked bureau drawers in a bedroom. Entry was gained through a patio door.

Ptl. Robert Nielsen investigated the attempted entry over the weekend of the home of Maria E. Szabelak, 150 Valley Road. According to police, the locks of two screens on the north and east side of the home had been pried open and an attempt made to force the interior doors.

Police found two sets of footprints -- one large and one small -- in the outside ice.

LECTURE SERIES SET
First is Next Tuesday. The Historical Society is sponsoring its eighth annual Morning Lecture Series on six consecutive Tuesdays, starting next week, when Harold Sack, an authority on the authenticity and investment value of American antique furniture, will speak on "Approach to Authenticating Antique Furniture" with accompanying slides. He is the son of Israel Sack, founder of the firm in New York City bearing the family name, whose traditions are carried on by his sons.

Mr. Sack specializes in bringing to light the finest examples of American furniture and has worked with collectors, museums, and private and public institutions to preserve this country's cultural heritage. He has written for numerous publications, including "Antiques," and is a frequent lecturer at The Metropolitan Museum of Art, The Smithsonian Institution, universities, antique shows and conferences.

All lectures will be in Pierce Hall at Trinity Church at 10:30 with coffee served at 10. Season tickets are $5 for Historical Society members and $7.50 for non-members. They may be obtained by sending a check to The Historical Society, 158 Nassau Street. These tickets as well as single tickets for $1.50 will be available at the door each Tuesday.

The second lecture, on January 20, will feature fashion historian Elizabeth S. Brown of Belle Mead, who will speak on "The Ups and Downs of the Bustle."

SCHLUTER TO RUN
For Congress. William Schluter, Pennington resident and former State Senator, announced this week that he wants to be the Republican candidate for the 13th Congressional District seat. This district, now represented by Democrat Helen Meyner, includes parts of Mercer and Morris counties and all of Sussex, Warren and Hunterdon.

He plans to focus on reduced government spending, "not adding to the Federal bureaucracy," he said in a campaign announcement Tuesday. "Great care must be exercised," he said, to keep an upward trend in the economy while keeping inflation under control. He also cited self-sufficiency in energy, linked to the "fight for environmental protection."

A graduate of Princeton University in 1950, Mr. Schluter has been Pennington Borough Councilman, State Assemblyman (two terms) and State Senator (one term). In 1972, New Jersey Freeholders named him "Legislator of the Year" and in '72-'73, he was ranked Number One on environmental issues by the New Jersey Environmental Voters Alliance. He was author of the state's campaign financing disclosure law.

NO 15 PERCENT?
State Won't Commit. "I don't feel we really got through to him," said Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week, commenting on refusal by David Bardin, Commissioner of Environmental Protection, to commit the state to paying 15 percent of the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority costs.

A large delegation from all six Authority towns talked with Mr. Bardin in late December. According to the mayor, the group hadn't known before that a state capital-needs task force recommended an average of only eight percent for state grants.

"Commitments!" the mayor exclaimed, "the carrot held by the state to overcome the reluctance of people in Authority towns, was that the state would pay that 15 percent. We concede that it's not a legally binding, commitment, but it was a morally binding one."

Mr. Bardin said a bill now before Congress might help, but Mayor Cawley observed that the bill "seems directly opposed to the President's thinking on fiscal matters. Unless there is massive support in Congress for it, I haven't any hope."

The mayor said the Authority plans to give Mr. Bardin more data showing sewer and water costs for individual taxpayers, if the 15 percent is refused.

"I don't think Bardin realizes Authority communities aren't irresponsible: we tried long ago to solve potential and current sewer problems. We've been a 'good citizen' on things like the Mount Laurel zoning decision. For being responsible, we've been hindered and not helped."

By Franklin Township Schools. Franklin Township's Sampson G. Smith Intermediate School has set up a new communications program called the "Key Communicators," to eliminate rumors and to provide clear information on events at the school.

Principal William B. Howard will relay such information to parents through these volunteers and asks that parents contact the Key Communicators with any school related problem (not personal) or rumor.

P.J. & B. For several seasons now, the musical called "1776" has been in the back of Milton Lyon's pocket, waiting for, naturally, a 1976 P.J. & B. production. The musical, under Mr. Lyon's direction, will play McCarter four times, starting Thursday, January 29, at 7:30. It will be given again that Friday and Saturday at 8:30 and on Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

In this production of the musical, Karl Light will play the leading role of John Adams. The play centers around Adams and his efforts to persuade delegates to the Continental Congress to declare the colonies free of British rule. Benjamin Franklin -- to be played by Robert Paulus -- and Adams succeed in persuading Thomas Jefferson -- portrayed by Herb Hunsberger -- to write a "declaration of independence" for adoption by the congress in that sweltering summer of 1776 in Philadelphia. Karl Light has played many roles in many Princeton productions. Audiences will remember him as the King in the 1966 P.J. & B. production of "The King and I," and most recently on the McCarter stage in "A Grave Undertaking."

Mr. Paulus was Horace Vandergelder in the 1974 "Hello, Dolly" for P.J. & B., and was Mr. Snow in the 1973 production, "Carousel." Mr. Hunsberger is a newcomer to P.J. & B. musicals. In the part of John Dickinson, Mr. Lyon has P.J. & B. veteran, Reid White, who was Mr. Upton in "Mame" (1970) and a member of the Jacques Brel ensemble in 1973.

The two leading women's roles will be taken by Mary Alice Witte who will be Abigail Adams, and Darcy Achziger, who will be Mrs. Jefferson.

"THE HEIRESS"
By McCarter Company. "The Heiress," the play adapted from Henry James' novel, "Washington Square" will be the next presentation by the McCarter Theatre Company. It replaces "The New York Idea," previously announced as the mid-winter production. The play will open Thursday, February 12 and will run through Sunday, February 22.

of Princeton at the Visual Arts Program building of Princeton University, Nassau Street facing Moore.

The workshop, open to everyone interested in dance, film, theatre and theatre music, is being funded by a grant to the Co-op from the New Jersey Council on the Arts, and the National Endowment for the Arts. Registration may be made by calling 924-9390.

Modern dance in the tradition of Mary Wigman, will be the core of the workshop, and Brigitta Herrmann and Manfred Fischbeck will follow that tradition through classes in movement technique and improvisation. There will be lectures on dance and media, and a final performance incorporating sculpture, lights, film, slides and live electronic music.

Dance Co-op will open this week its 14-week winter session of daytime and evening classes for young people and adults. Information may be obtained by calling 924-9390 or writing Esther Seligmann, artistic director for the Co-op, 59 Gordon Way, Princeton.

DANCE A LIVELY ART
 At Princeton University. Appearing in this year's Princeton University Dancers' Concert Friday and Saturday at 8:30 at Murray Theatre, with a matinee Saturday at 3, will be several dancers who plan to continue dancing after graduation.

Senior Jeff Ferguson is one who plans a career in theatre or dance. He has already performed professionally with repertory theatre and has had leading roles in Triangle Shows and in Princeton University Dancers' Concerts. This year he choreographed a quartet for the concert. Another student planning to continue in dance upon graduation this spring is Julio Rivera, who has held a scholarship at the Alvin Ailey American Dance Center.

Sophomore Lynne Dennis will repeat her acclaimed solo from last year's concert which was chosen for performance at the North East Regional Ballet Festival in Toronto which she attended as a member of the Princeton Regional Ballet Company. Sukey Cohen, whose lyrical solo from last year's concert was also performed in Toronto, will appear in several works, including a duet choreographed by graduate student Kevin O'Neill.

Several freshmen with credits in dance will also perform. Pat Whaley, a graduate of the High School of the Performing Arts in New York City, auditioned for the cast of "Raisin" and was accepted but chose instead to come to Princeton. Christine Brady, majoring in tropical medicine, was a former member of the Princeton Regional Ballet and has studied for many years at the Joffrey School. Leslie Spencer has studied winters at the Martha Graham School and summers at Connecticut College.

Tickets for the concert are $3.

Recital Offering Songs with Lute and Guitar At McCarter Theatre Is Uneven Entertainment

Martin Best is an enthusiastic musician with a fragile voice. His enthusiasm was clearly displayed by both the quantity and variety of works which he and his assistant, Edward Flower, performed Monday at McCarter Theatre.

Both performed on guitar and lute, though only Best sang. The program utilized nearly all available combinations: duets on the instrumental pairs, vocal solos, and accompanied songs. The sound of the lute leans towards that of the clavichord, while that of the guitar is softer, more reminiscent of the harp.

The opportunity to hear both on the same program was a satisfying one. However, one could have wished for music which made greater use of the technical possibilities of both instruments. Of the opening group of Anonymous and Traditional Ballads from the British Isles and America, only the "Lass of Patie's Mill" really provided a melody in counterpoint to the voice. The last of this group, "The Vicar of Bray," was also well set, with the accompaniment and mood changing just as the Vicar changed religions to please different monarchs.

Acoustical Problems. The lute music may be best remembered by the "Lanquan li Jern," a religious twelfth-century love song, whose gentle demeanor suited Best's voice well. During some of the more boisterous numbers, one sensed a strain. However, the acoustics of McCarter Theatre are hardly geared to this delicate chamber music.

Best's acknowledged favorite was Swedish composer Carl Michael Bellman, whose works comprised the third cycle. He wrote of people who Best termed "outside the pale of polite society."

Best further mentioned a separation between the graceful settings of the words and the content. Only two instances performed demonstrated this disparity.

Best's feeble attempts at text setting.

What was perhaps most disappointing was that he did try to project the different rhythm of the words and to change the accompaniment as the ideas and images changed. However, he lost the thread of his compositions just at these points.

The result was a weak stringing together of musical sentences which often were non-sequiturs. His encore, a setting of Byron's "We'll Go No More A' Roving", was much more satisfactory. Here was verse with which he felt at home.

The Salute to Spain which ended the program contained a charming group of songs, but it was nonetheless anticlimactic. The program was more copious than necessary and did not cover the weak spots. However, at his strongest, Best is a sensitive performer and one worth hearing.

The first was "Away We Trot," an ironic drinking song that extols drinking in the face of death. The other was the "Cradle Song: for My Son Carl". This unaccompanied song presents a lyric look at life in this vale of tears.

Here again, Best ably projected the piece. His dynamic shadings were drawn with care. He had obviously given a good deal of care to the pacing and musical shape of the piece.

Weakness Develops. The fourth Cycle, American Indian poetry set to music by Best, was the least satisfactory of all. Somehow one felt that Best never transcended the culture shock.

The imagery, line-lengths, indeed, the total content of this poetry, is strikingly different from that of all the European-American works performed. This was not captured by cantatas written for services to be held ideally on the first three days of Christmas, the second half is devoted to three cantatas associated with the days of Epiphany. Thus, the fourth cantata (and the beginning section of the forthcoming service) has a decidedly pastoral atmosphere, and Bach intensifies this with the use of two French horns, used at no other point in the six cantatas. The performers remain the same as for the Christmas Vespers except that Beatrice Engel, recent Westminster Choir College graduate and soloist, will sing the alto solos, and Edward Cheng, a Choir member, will sing the short role of Herod.

Other music to be heard during the service will be organ prelude and postlude performed by Frank Nowell, a University Organist, and two hymns, all music appropriate to the season. Admission is free, and the public is invited.

TWO FOR FOLK MUSIC
Pair of Concerts Scheduled.
Tony and Irene Saletan will appear in concert on Friday, January 9, at 8:15 at the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church, sponsored by the Princeton Folk Music Society. The Saletans will also give a children's concert on Saturday, January 10, at 2 at the Witherspoon School, Walnut Lane, co-sponsored by the Princeton Parent-Teachers Organization and the Folk Music Society.

Tony Saletan is best known for his public TV series, "Let's All Sing" and "The Song Bag." He has been in the field of music and a performer and educator since the early 1960's.

Irene Saletan came to national attention singing with her sister Ellen as The Kossoy Sisters at the Newport Folk Festival. Since then, she has appeared in schools, colleges and coffee houses, on NBC television's "Take a Giant Step" and other network programs.

Admission to the Friday evening concert is $2.50 general, $2 student, and $1.50 member. The Saturday children's concert is $1.50 adult, $1 members, and 75 cents children. There are no advance ticket sales.

CONCERT AT TRINITY
On Rarpsichord Sunday. Harpsichord music by Bach, Scarlatti, Couperin and other composers will be performed by Edward Parmentier Sunday evening at 8 in Trinity Church.

Mr. Parmentier, who has performed extensively on both harpsichord and organ throughout England and Holland, is at present a Ph.D. candidate in musicology at Princeton University. He is in the process of recording the harpsichord music of Handel for Princeton University Library. In 1971-72, he was Director of Music at Princeton Theological Seminary and All Saints' Church, and is currently teaching harpsichord in Princeton, where he is also well-known as a performer.

The harpsichord to be used by Mr. Parmentier for this recital was built by William Dowd in 1772, patterned on one by Pascal Taskin, 1770. The program is the fifth in the Trinity-All Saints' Series of Concerts and Musical Services, and is open to the public without charge.

CONCERT FOR CHILDREN

The Junior League of the Central Delaware Valley, in cooperation with Young Audiences of Central Delaware Valley, will sponsor a concert for children and their parents Sunday at 3 in the United Methodist Church, Nassau and Vandeventer Streets. Young Audiences is the recipient of a grant from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts.

The DaCamera Players, Susan Chamberlin and Portia Sonnenfeld, will give a performance of music, dialogue and fun for one hour. Admission is $1. For further information contact Mrs. John F. Kelsey, III, 921-7579.

(8 p.m.) in the Movies-at-McCarter series.

Openly homosexual, Hockney was an artistic and social luminary in the London of the 1960s. The film, made over a four-year period, chronicles the break-up of Hockney's affair with his lover, the painter Peter Schlesinger, and the effects of the split on the two artists, their friends and Hockney's own work.

In the film, directed by Jack Hazan, real people play their own parts. Critics have compared the film to Hockney's own paintings, pointing to the combination of reality and a world "larger than life."

Because of the subject matter and some nude scenes, McCarter does not recommend "A Bigger Splash" for young audiences, and urges parental discretion.

AUSTRALIA-BOUND

As AFS Exchange Student, Richard Besser, son of Dr. and Mrs. William Besser of 526 Terhune Road, leaves this week for a suburb of Melbourne, Australia, where he will live with the Keith Woolmers and their two sons as an American Field Service Exchange student.

A junior at Princeton High School, Richard will attend Yarra Valley School, a private Church of England School. After a 19-hour flight via Los Angeles and New Zealand, he will join the Woolmers on a camping vacation, since it is now summer "Down Under."

Richard applied to AFS to become an exchange student in October. After approval by a committee here, his application was forwarded to AFS International in New York, which chose him to go to Australia.

The AFS Chapter is now taking applications for host families who, like the Australian Woolmers, would like to have a high school age exchange student from a foreign country as a member of their family. Interested families who have students at Princeton High School or Princeton Day School and Park School. The public is would like to be "home" to a young person may contact Mrs. Ruth Shoemaker (PHS) 921-7599 or Mrs. Adela Wilmerding (PDS) 921-8266 by the end of January.

Costs are primarily paid by the AFS International and Chapter committees. A host family budgets for the student's food and lodging, family trips and modest presents in accordance with its own way of living.

Five families in this area are currently hosts to AFS foreign students. These young people will participate in an informal panel discussion on Monday at 8 at Community High School or Monday at 8 at Community Park School. The public is invited to attend, meet the foreign visitors and learn more about being an AFS host family.

The students, their schools and home countries are: from Lawrence High School, Louise Tallantire, New Zealand; from PHS, Michael Pergeman, Sweden, and Arlete Lins, Brazil; from PDS, Isabelle Richart, France; and Sonia Merlano, Columbia.

NEW TERM TO BEGIN

In Writing Program, Helikon, a writing program for children and adults, begins its second term on February 3 with several new courses in addition to the activities which produce "Helikon Corner," the community journal written for and by youth. The Creative Writing Workshop for middle-schoolers will continue as will filmmaking in David Mackey's workshop.

New will be a course offered by Anne Reeves entitled "Draw Princeton," in which students will combine drawing, writing and history to make a portfolio of Princeton's famous sites. Robin Wallack will offer a "Create-a-Book Studio" for grades 3-5 in which students will write, illustrate and bind their own storybooks.

For adults there is the "Scribblers" Studio which meets Monday evenings from 8-10 and offers amateurs a chance to write and share their work. In February, the focus will be on Women in Poetry, led by Joyce Greenberg.

Helikon also has a tutorial program to deal individually with problems in grammar, organization, style and revision. Scheduled on Tuesdays through Thursdays, the tutorials are open to both children and adults.

For teachers Helikon will schedule a series of Saturday morning workshops to show how new techniques in the creative arts can make writing fun as well as teach skills. The first will be held on February 28, 9:30 until noon, in the Unitarian Church. The participants will use film arts to begin different writing activities.

Kathy Kenfield and Mimi Schwartz are the directors of Helikon. For further information call or write Helikon, 36 Pine Street, 924-5782, or 924-6504.

CHARGE 2 DEER HUNTERS

With Trespassing. Two bow and arrow deer hunters from Trenton were charged Saturday by Township police with trespassing on posted property.

Samuel D. Micciche, 29, and Francis A. Kemo, 20, were apprehended on the Cherry Hill Road property of Mrs. Mary W. Pardee at 10:15 a.m. by off-duty patrolman James Vandermark, who was walking through the woods. Police said both were dressed in camouflaged clothing. Their car had been parked a mile and a-half away in Montgomery Township — a common practice used by hunters who do not want to be suspected of being in a particular area, commented Chief Frederick Porter.

The two hunters were later released in their own recognizance. The winter season for long bow hunters for deer of either sex runs from Jan. 3-10.

Chief Porter added that another Cherry Hill Road resident, Albert Salzman, had found two hunting arrows with razor-sharp tips on his property in October. One was embedded in an embankment near his drive some 100 feet from his home; the other in his front yard.

Branding the arrows "silent death," Chief Porter said "I can just imagine kids walking in the area and these things sailing through the air...just because of the recklessness of a few hunters who shoot anywhere."

TWO ARE FINED

For Careless Driving. Geoffrey Kauffman, 148 Library Place, and Robert E. Hancock of Skillman were each fined $25 Monday in Borough traffic court for careless driving. Ursula T. Mooskolov, 5 Rosalind Drive Lane, and Dolores J. Ware, 84 Heather Lane, each paid $15 for speeding.

Failure to report a motor vehicle accident cost Ann M. Crum, 33 Vandeventer Avenue, $30, while Carmen M. Prezioso, 61 Palmer Square West, paid $25 for failing to yield after stopping for a stop sign.

School Vote Postponed

School elections for Princeton and other regional districts have been postponed from the first Tuesday in February to Tuesday, March 2. Governor Brendan T. Byrne signed the postponement bill into law Monday.

Elections — which include the annual referendum on the school budget — were postponed because school boards don't yet know how much state aid they're going to receive, and it has been extremely difficult to draw up budgets under these circumstances. The State Supreme Court hasn't yet ruled on how school aid is to be apportioned.

The new law re-opens the field for people who want to run for the school board. The new deadline for filing applications is Friday, January 23.

Street, was arrested at 3:40 Saturday morning, after he had allegedly assaulted his wife, Deborah, by striking her across the face with his hand.

A second charge of assault and battery against Glover was made by the arresting officer, Ptl. Mario Musso. Ptl. Musso reported that Glover resisted arrest and that he had to disarm him of a 10-inch kitchen knife with which he allegedly had threatened the officer.

Ptl. Musso was assisted by Sgt. Jack Petrone and Ptl. John Clausen. Glover was scheduled to appear in Township court this Wednesday.

6-DAY DRIVE PLANNED

To Equip Lifemobiles. The Country-wide Lifemobile fund drive announced last week will take place next Monday through Saturday, in an effort to raise $300,000 to equip the 16 First Aid Units in the county with sophisticated telemetry equipment which will connect accident and heart attack victims immediately with the intensive care units of the five county hospitals.

More than 1,000 posters have been distributed throughout the county by First Aid unit volunteers and 200 Lifemobile boxes for donations will be in many banks and stores.

WHWH, Princeton, and WPST, Trenton, will do live remotes Monday through Saturday from noon to 2 and will also host a five-hour Radiothon on Wednesday evening, January 14, from 7 until midnight. All 13 Mayors and Freeholders have been invited to appear along with paramedics, doctors, administrators and well-known Mercer County residents.

A special phone number, 695-LIFE (695-5433), is in use to accept pledges 18 hours a day. Most county newspapers are running feature articles and will carry reports on the drive which, as of Monday, already was approaching $20,000.

RUNNERS DUE HERE

On New York to Washington Relay. Thirteen members of the Liberty Torch Bicentennial Group will run a 360-mile round-the-clock relay January 9 to 11 in an energetic celebration of the beginning of the 200th year of independence. The run will last over 50 hours and follow a route from New York through Philadelphia to Washington, D.C., passing many historical landmarks along the way.

One such landmark is the Princeton Battle Monument where the runners are scheduled to arrive at 1:30 a.m. Saturday. The Historical Society, Walter Fullam, president, will welcome them at Borough Hall with orange juice.

Believing that the revitalization of America hinges to a large extent upon the physical fitness of its citizens, the Liberty Torch Runners hope also to draw attention to the need for a rekindling of the spiritual values on which the country was founded.

The opening ceremony will be held Friday at 10 at St. Paul's Chapel in lower Manhattan with a reading of George Washington's prayer to the American people and the lighting of 200 candles, the last of which will, in turn, set the runner's torch ablaze. The run will culminate at approximately 2 p.m. Sunday, at the Washington Monument, where the runners will be received by the President's Advisor on Physical Fitness.

FEMALE AND SINGLE?

New Group Formed. "Solo," a new group aimed at providing support for the woman on her own, will have its first public meeting this Thursday at 8 p.m. at the YWCA. All women are invited to attend.

Organizers plan to provide women with legal information - a panel of attorneys and a judge will discuss present divorce laws at the first meeting - with emotional support to counteract loneliness and with a chance to unite in efforts to reform laws and procedures affecting the lives of women alone.

Groups of ten women each will form a self-help network, according to initial plans, and professional counsellors will help each group organize. Members will meet regularly to share experiences and help one another cope with practical problems.

Organizers are Ann

Medlock, Princeton writer; Sally Oppenheimer, therapist at Trinity Counselling Service; Carolyn Landis, administrator in an education organization; Lois Shaffer, Trenton pianist and Shirley Stein, Trenton psycho-therapist.

PROGRAM EXPANDED

By YWCA. In an effort to fill the needs and interests of women of all ages, the Princeton YWCA has planned a larger and more diverse schedule of Winter courses and programs than ever before.

From pre-schooler to senior citizen, the YWCA has something to offer every woman and girl. Preschoolers will enjoy Creative Storytelling, Creative Art For Moms and Tots, Music Workshop or Reading Readiness.

For more active mothers there is a Mother Toddler Gym and Swim class, or Pre-Ballet, Kleinkinderturnen or Kindertanz. The Toddler Fun Club is for the 3-5 year old who doesn't want or need nursery school, but wants and needs compatible playmates once or twice a week.

Creative Drama, Art, Gymnastics, Magic and Outdoor Education head the list of activities offered for the grade school girls. New this year is the Saturday Circle, where girls meet new friends and participate in a full program of special activities and interests. Open to girls 6½ to 11, participants will be grouped by age with trained counselors for each group.

The High School girl can choose from several active sports such as gymnastics, swimming, diving, tap dance, trampoline and judo, or a number of creative art classes.

Teen Women is a new group at the YWCA which is focused on the concerns, opinions, ideas and dreams of today's teen women. Ziporum, a co-ed high school group, meets on Monday evenings, and includes varied program of activities.

For Women. There are a variety of courses available for women such as Assertive Training, Book of the Month, French, Bridge, Poetry Workshop and Values Clarification. Women with an artistic flair, or who are just interested in trying a new art form, can join one of the many art and or craft, needlework or sewing classes.

The YWCA also offers every level of exercise, dance, swim and gymnastic program. Ice skating, bowling and skiing are also being offered this winter.

Several special programs of particular interest are being offered this Winter. There are co-ed programs for teens, programs for women in transition - whether by divorce, death or separation, a follow-up workshop on Human Sexuality - Open Communication Between You and Your Children and one on gynecology will be offered.

The YWCA will hold a special Writers' World Follow-up Workshop on Journalism, led by Ann Rinaldi of the Trentonian, as well as a special program on China Today.

AMERICANA SOUGHT

For Clark House. The Princeton Battlefield Area Preservation Society, meeting to hear reports and to elect officers, heard Mrs. Lucius Wilmerding, Jr., chairman of the committee for the furnishing of the Clarke House on the Battlefield, report that progress has been made by the State in restoring the house, but that there is still an urgent need for certain items of furnishing.

Items, dating from 1777 or earlier, being sought, a bed warming pan; crane kettle and andirons for the fireplace; candle stands; spinning wheel, wool winder and flax wheel; small wing chair; wash stands, pitchers and basins; and homespun blankets and sheets.

The Society received a request from the Historical Society of Fishkill, N.Y., for a stone from Princeton Battlefield to be incorporated into a monument being constructed as a memorial to the men who served at the Fishkill Quartermaster Supply Depot during the Revolutionary War, 1776-1783. The monument will include stones from various historical sites such as Bennington Battlefield, Valley Forge and Fort Ticonderoga, and each stone will be specifically identified in a

Through the efforts of Dr. Donald Baird of the University Geology Department and Alfred Busselle, chairman of the Society, a stone from Princeton Battlefield has been duly delivered to the Fishkill Historical Society.

Officers of the Society for the coming year are William P. Starr, Jr., chairman; Richard W. Baker, Jr., president; Mrs. Dydnor B. Penick, Jr., vice-president; Joseph E. Johnson, vice-president; Thomas J. Wertenbaker, Jr., secretary; and Carl Breuer, treasurer. Mr. Busselle, Edward D'Arms, Walter Fullam and Col. Kemble Widmer were elected directors.

role. The Association for Advancement of the Mentally Handicapped, Princeton Chapter, will now be known as the AAMH Mercer Chapter.

The AAMH, according to Peter Trayers, the agency's head of staff, has been serving people from every part of the county since last spring, when he realized it was no strain on his resources. "Now we're working with people from Trenton, Hamilton, and elsewhere, not just Princeton and the Windsors."

The agency provides basic human support for mentally handicapped adults trying to function in the community. It helps by finding jobs and suitable housing, providing social and educational activities, and stimulating integration of mentally handicapped people with the general community.

The AAMH began providing direct assistance in the Princeton area in February, 1975. It started with two "members", as it prefers to call people it supports, and now has nearly 60. The N.J. Division of Mental Retardation, Mercer County Association for Retarded Citizens, and other agencies cooperate with the AAMH. Those who know a mentally handicapped adult needing help may contact Mr. Trayers at 163 Nassau Street, or call 924-7174.

TWO SESSIONS PLANNED

For County Skaters. The Mercer County Park Commission has designated two weekly sessions at the new Mercer County Skating Center solely for the pleasure and practice of figure skaters. The combination free style and dance sessions will be held Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 to noon.

"We want to give figure skaters more room than they would have during open skating, as well as a pleasant atmosphere," said Mercer County Park Commission President Richard J. Coffee. "This ties in with Commission policy to serve all the interests of the area's skaters."

DIVISIONS TOP GOAL

In United Fund Drive. The holiday spirit helped the 1975 United Fund-Red Cross Campaign pass the 80 percent mark last week in its drive to raise $655,000 to support 20 community agencies in the 13 communities of the Princeton Area United Fund during the year ahead. "Three of our ten fund-raising divisions have already exceeded 100 percent of their goals," said the campaign chairman, Dr. Aleck Borman, "and we expect others to join these leaders any day now."

The three which have surpassed their goals are Financial Institutions, 106 percent; Government, 118 percent, and Mercantile 101 percent. The Financial Division, the first to surpass its goal in several years, is headed by Albert J. Mennello of the Princeton Bank & Trust Company, and Barry B. Davall of the New Jersey National Bank. The Mercantile Division is headed by Robert Landau of Landau's clothing store. Other divisions nearing the 100 percent mark are Research & Industry (90 percent) and Special Gifts (85 percent).

"If contributions keep coming in the way they have," Dr. Borman added, "we should reach our overall goal within the next few weeks." Dr. Borman concluded by saying that those who have not yet contributed to this year's campaign may do so by making their checks out to the "United Fund", and mailing them to P.O. Box 1152.

JOINS REALTY WORLD

Audrey Short, a Member Broker, Audrey Short, Inc. of 163 Nassau Street, has joined Realty World, an international real estate marketing program, which recently opened an Eastern Regional office in Broomall, Pa. Commenting on the new affiliation, Mrs. Short said, "Our membership in Realty World will allow us to give our customers more service and greater exposure than any other office in the immediate area."

Realty World offers its broker members two unique services. One is called RealScope, which consists of two exterior and six interior color photographs of a house for sale mounted on a display board, with a second display board showing the surrounding area and community in color photos.

Each broker has all his listings on RealScope so a prospective buyer can more readily select the houses he wishes to see and a seller is not inundated with lookers who are not potential buyers. Also, if a client wishes, the salesperson can bring RealScope to the client's home.

Another service is a sales training program employing television cameras and monitors so that performance can be evaluated with the help

The 50th Tech Hifi Grand Opening Sale!

Now there's a Tech Hifi in Eatontown, N.J. So now your local Tech Hifi can offer you the purchasing power of 50 stereo stores! Don't miss the Grand Opening Sale this week at the Tech near you.

Right now, during our chain-wide Grand Opening Sale celebrating the 50th Tech Hifi store, you'll find Nikko and other quality hifi components, at prices that are guaranteed to be the lowest in the area.

For example, you can get a fine music system with the Nikko 2025 am/fm stereo receiver, Maximus 16 air-tight loudspeakers, and a light-tracking BSR 2260X automatic turntable with an ADC 90Q magnetic cartridge, for only $279.

Here's a $594 system that delivers deeper bass response, sharper FM performance, and more accurate reproduction of records than many $1,000 systems we've heard! The renowned Larger Advent Loudspeakers (vinyl cabinets) reproduce virtually all audible frequencies with an almost uncanny lack of coloration. To help the Advents reach their full potential, we've combined them with the Nikko 6065 am/fm stereo receiver. This advanced receiver provides the 8 ohm Advents with 30 watts minimum RMS per channel from 20 to 20,000 Hz. with no more than 0.5% total harmonic distortion. The Philips GA427 belt-drive turntable equipped with an ADC 90Q induced magnetic cartridge complete this excellent home music system.

With distinguished components from Nikko, Microacoustics, Sansui, and Stanton, this $842 system has capabilities beyond those of many systems available at any price. The Nikko 8085 stereo receiver incorporates a direct-coupled OCL pure complementary power amplifier that delivers a room-filling 45 watts minimum RMS per channel into 8 ohms from 20 to 20,000 Hz. with no more than 0.3% total harmonic distortion. A unique 5-tweeter high frequency array in each Microacoustic FRM-1 loudspeaker solves the problem of high frequency "beaming" inherent in almost any other conventional loudspeaker. And with its precision S-shaped tonearm and sophisticated belt-drive mechanism, the Sansui 212 turntable will reproduce your records flawlessly play after play. This auto-return turntable comes complete with a wood base, dustcover, and an excellent Stanton 500EE magnetic cartridge.

FREE

You'll receive a free stereo headphone with the purchase of any of the systems above!

Invaluable Service of Many Volunteers on Municipal Boards Stressed by Mayor Cawley in Annual New Year's Day Address

Following is the text of the address delivered at Borough Hall on New Year's Day by Mayor Robert W. Cawley

I should like to talk about the volunteer nature of government in Princeton because I want to recognize the contributions of many and also because a volunteer government has several important advantages.

In Princeton, despite sizable administrative staffs, volunteers do run government. The nine non-paid volunteers on the Regional School Board provide overall direction of our school system. The two municipal governing bodies have volunteer membership -- seven in the Borough, five in the Township. The annual pay is low: $750 for Borough Council; $1,000 for Borough Mayor and Township Committee; $3,000 for Township Mayor.

Of even greater significance are the many non-paid volunteers serving on municipal boards. On ten Borough boards are 63 positions. The Township has similar numbers. On 11 joint Borough-Township boards are 93 positions. In addition are the 150 volunteer firemen. Thus municipal governments in Princeton have about 350 volunteers; the paid professional and administrative staffs number about 200.

The value of the volunteer service could be measured in hours at some dollar rate -- and it would be very, very high. On government bodies the time expended can go to 15-20 hours per week. Busy boards such as Planning can average 20-30 hours per month. Boards meeting only once a month may require only 3-5 hours a month.

In Proper Hands. But it is not the time alone, in addition it is the quality of personnel that can be gained on a volunteer basis. Experts in many, many fields will serve on a volunteer basis only.

And beyond and perhaps more important than these tangible benefits is the feeling that with volunteers the government is under the control of the citizens. Those doing the governing come from the governed, are accessible and truly responsive. The only motive of such officials is the public welfare. It is this feeling that results in many local governments having good credibility at a time when government in general has poor credibility. Volunteer service is an essential element in the good credibility in Princeton. For this we are in debt to the volunteers.

There are a few problems I'd like to mention. The recent discussions about the proper role of political parties in Princeton is related to this exploration of volunteers in of interest. As a result, many needed reforms have been introduced. At the local level, one might be cautious about going too far in the concern for the appearance of conflicts.

Various Types of Conflicts. Let us remember that most of the scandals involved premeditated criminal acts -- using public positions unlawfully for personal gain. This is entirely different from the occasional direct conflict found locally or the common indirect conflict.

For example, a University faculty member may sit on a board which will decide a University development application. Although he may oppose the application, abstaining is his proper course to avoid a court reversal of this board's decision based on his employment relationship. The key point is that the possibility that volunteers will encounter conflicts should not prevent their serving. Their very expertise that often causes the conflicts is of great value.

We have worried about other kinds of conflicts, or perhaps more accurately, appearances of conflict. There is disagreement on whether spouses of governing body members should serve.

These are two of a number of conflict situations that are being discussed. I urge that the need for expertise and a consideration of the rights and aspirations of individuals be weighed against the real hazards of the conflict situation.

Appreciation Expressed. In focusing attention on the volunteer aspect of local government, I would also like to point out that in a community such as Princeton that demands high standards of government service without the more than full-time service of Mr. Mooney and many others of the professional and administrative staff, the ordinances and policy decisions made by volunteers would not become effective. Our thanks to them, too.

I want to express special thanks to Bob Powell and Barbara Sigmund, who contributed so outstanding for these years on Council. We wish them well and hope we can continue to gain their help on occasion. Also our gratitude to Ed Warren, who retired as Tax Assessor in 1975.

After looking at 200 years of volunteer government in Princeton, let's hope volunteers continue to run our community for many more and continue to put the public good as their goal.

The two new pieces are Ailey's "The Lark Ascending," to music by Ralph Vaughn Williams, and "After Eden," choreographed by John Butler to a score by Lee Hoiby. Two favorites - "Cry" and "Revelations," the company's signature work, will be on this program.

Here's a Super Bowl question for you...How many teams in history have ever won the Super Bowl two straight years? ... The only teams to do it were Green Bay in 1967 and '68, and Miami in 1973 and '74. No team has ever won it three straight years.

When was the last time that neither Ohio State nor Michigan represented the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl? ... Answer is 1968, when Indiana went to the Rose Bowl. Every year since then, it's been either Ohio State or Michigan as the visiting team.

Here's a surprising fact ... In the entire history of the Super Bowl, up to this year, only one Heisman Trophy winner has ever scored a point in a Super Bowl game ... Do you know who's the only one? ... Answer is Mike Garrett, who won the Heisman at Southern Cal in 1965 and scored a touchdown for Kansas City in the 1970 Super Bowl. Oddly enough, no other Heisman winner has yet to cross the goal line in a Super Bowl game.

I bet you didn't know that we have a major medical policy with a $100,000 limit at a rate guaranteed for three years.

Tiger Quintet, Nation's Best on Defense, Heads For New England Showdown after Beating Penn

Gary Walters, former Princeton player and assistant coach, was in Jadwin Gym Saturday to scout the Tigers and Pennsylvania, his opponents this weekend at Hanover, where he is now head coach. Having watched the Orange and Black demolish the defending champions, 63 to 39, he departed with the belief that his young team may manage to upset the Quakers Friday but that the Tigers "will be awfully tough to beat because they have put it all together."

Chuck Daly, the Penn coach who had his heart set on a seventh straight title for his team, an achievement that would match Dartmouth's string some three decades ago, naturally won't concede the title to Princeton. He has another shot at Pete Carril's quintet at the Palestra on January 27, but he does say into the game, highlighted by a 35-point performance against Tennessee.

Sowinski pared his opponent's output to 13 (on 6-for-17 shooting), thereby playing a major role in the defense that cut Penn's floor average all the way down to 29 percent. Sowinski's own total of 14 was achieved on a fine 5-for-7 effort, which in turn contributed greatly to the Tigers' sparkling average of 57 percent.

The sophomore forward's double-figure average in nine games (13.1) and all-around play strong enough to make him runner-up for MVP honors in the Maryland Tournament have more than replaced the fine contributions that Tim Van Blommestein was making last winter. Joining him as offensive leaders against Penn were Barnes Hauptfuhrer with 16 on an 8-for-12 effort and Armond Hill with 15 - 13 in the first half to go with 11 by Hauptfuhrer and break the game wide open before the intermission.

No Easy Games. Friday night's opponent, Harvard at Cambridge, should be less of a test for Princeton than Dartmouth the following night, but with their eyes set on the Ivy title they last won in 1969, the Tigers will not find an opportunity to coast home. The Crimson's young squad, listing only two seniors, is no better than 3-8 this year, and lost its lone league game so far to Dartmouth at Hanover. Captain Bill Carey, a 6-5 forward, and a veteran center, 6-9 Brian Banks, are Harvard's top holdover players. At Hanover, Gary Walters is creating order out of the chaos that has followed steady turnovers in the Dartmouth coaching ranks. Off to a 5-2 start, he has better-than-average players in Captain Larry Cubas, a 16.6 scorer last winter; 6-6 senior forward Bill Healey; and Adam Sutton, a senior who was the top Ivy scorer as a sophomore but played in only seven games last season because of injuries.

The Tigers were at home to William & Mary Tuesday night (see page 30) and will play their last game prior to the exam break next Tuesday against St. Joseph's in the Palestra. The Hawks were only 8-17 a year ago but hold a victory over Penn to their credit this year and may be a solid match for a Tiger team with its mind on the Ivy race.

Off Saturday's walloping of the defending champions, Princeton is without doubt the strongest team in the league by a fair-sized margin - even with Mickey Steuerer and Lon Ramati spending most of their time on the sidelines hoping to return to their 1975 form. If the Tigers continue to play according to their capability, they could complete the Ivy season with a 14-and-0 record.

TIGERS TOP ALABAMA Then Lose to Maryland. Matched against the nation's seventh and second ranked teams at College Park, Maryland, on successive nights, the Tigers gave a fine account of themselves for three successive halves.

The first two were good enough to achieve a headline-making upset of Alabama, 61-59, and after the first half next night, they were trailing highly-favored Maryland on its own floor by no more than 28-24. Not unexpectedly, they could not quite keep pace with the bigger, faster Terrapins, and lost, 66 to 59.

Alabama was 6-0 when it took the floor against the that "if Princeton comes back from New England this weekend 3-0, it will pretty much end the race."

For the last nine and a half minutes of the first half Saturday night, Princeton gave an exhibition rarely if ever matched by any of its outstanding predecessors. Against a Penn team good enough to trim Ohio State, which in turn came within three points of upsetting top-ranked Indiana, the Tigers put 20 points through the basket while limiting the visitors to 2.

A surge of that margin enabled them to leave the floor at the intermission on the very strong end of a 36-14 lead. Partially because reserves played increasingly in the second half, and to some extent because the disciplined offense was replaced by occasional wild half-court passing, the margin was increased by only two points in the final 20 minutes. But the defense continued to smother Penn's best efforts, and the losers' low total made Princeton the no. 1 team in the nation with a points allowed average of 56.8 of all the college teams playing in the U.S. Saturday, Penn's total of 39 was the lowest anywhere.

In Another Era. So superlative was Princeton's play when Penn was trying to score that a tour through the record book takes the researcher all the way back to World War II - when a mixture of civilians and Naval trainees were representing Ivy colleges - to find a lower score recorded by the Quakers in this rivalry. It was in 1943 that they were held to 27 points by a Princeton quintet which scored 48.

A major contributor to the accomplishment was sophomore Frank Sowinski, who has shot into the Princeton scene with eye-catching capability. The 6-5 19-year old resident of East Hanover, N.J., was given the tough assignment of guarding Penn's Keven McDonald, who brought a 23-point average

Tiger Quintet on TV

Four more Princeton basketball games this season will be shown on television -- two from Jadwin Gym and two from Philadelphia. The Penn game Saturday was aired on the state's public television channels.

Tuesday's game with St. Joseph's and the January 27th game with Penn will be televised from the Palestra on Channel 17. The first of Princeton's Big 7 games, against St. John's here Saturday afternoon, January 24, will be shown on NBC television. When the Tigers entertain Rutgers Monday, February 2, Channel 9 will record the action.

Tigers, and thoroughly beaten when it left. The contest was not quite as close as the final score would indicate, since the victors had a 14-point margin with 7:27 left, a six-point bulge with less than two to go and did not contest the losers last two baskets closely to keep from giving them three-point plays.

Princeton, among the leaders nationally in points allowed per game, gave both its opponents a lesson in the art of controlled shooting and defensive skill. After 20 minutes of play, Alabama had managed just 20 points and Maryland 28 -- in 'Bama's case, less than half its normal output. The losers were a miserable 24 percent (7 for 29) from the floor in the first half, and no better than 37 percent for the game.

In the Alabama game, the Tigers trailed briefly by a point in the very early going, led by 29-20 at the intermission and then built up the 14-point lead which, in a sense, almost proved their downfall. Ahead by that much, they were unable to control their semi-stall, committing several turnovers and failing to take the good shot. The losers steadily closed the gap in the final seven minutes, aided by cold Tiger foul shooting, which during one stretch converted but a single shot on three successive one-and-one opportunities.

In contrast to Alabama, Maryland managed to stay just enough ahead of the over-matched Princetonians to control the outcome. From their four-point half-time lead, the Terps moved out to a 12-point advantage, only to see their pesky opponents narrow their deficit to 53-48 with 2:23 to go. A series of foul shots, including one for a technical against Pete Carril, then put the verdict safely away for Maryland.

Armond Hill and sophomore Frank Sowinski had the best back-to-back games, with respective scoring of 20-10-30 and 12-19-31. Hill had a spectacular night in the Alabama victory, but tailed off against Maryland after having played three outstanding games in the holiday tournaments.

Mickey Steurer put in his best performance of the season with 11 points against Alabama and the fine floor play of which he is capable. Barnes Hauptfuhrer was held to 4 and fouled out against Alabama, but hit for 14 in the Maryland loss.

Seton Hall, the fourth team in the tournament, was thoroughly outclassed. The Pirates lost by close to 40 points on the first night to Maryland and in the consolation round to Alabama, giving up a total of 204 in the two defeats.

TOURNAMENT AHEAD

At Yale for Hockey Team. The trend toward scheduling four or even six teams into weekend tournaments as an economy measure will find Princeton playing at New Haven this weekend in the first such event staged by Yale. The Elis' arena is already SRO for contests that will pit Princeton against New Hampshire and Yale against Vermont Friday, with losers and winners paired the next night.

The Tigers have drawn the toughest of the three teams as their opening foe. UNH defeated RPI decisively after the latter won its own tournament with successive victories over Princeton (6-3), Northeastern and Providence.

Princeton's record slipped another notch -- to 1-7-1 -- Saturday but in the process of absorbing a 4-2 defeat from Boston University, the Orange and Black may have found a goalie. Senior Robin Rollefstad, who has never owned the position outright, may have staked out that claim with his performance against the Terriers.

Fifty-one shots came his way, and he saved on 47 -- quite a number of them above and beyond the call of duty. In fact, at least two of the four that got by him might have been prevented with better help from his teammates.

Losers Score First. The home team got the first goal, on a power play at 14:34 of the opening round. Freshman Trevor Kilburn flipped the puck in from near-pointblank range on a good pass from the corner launched by Craig Dahl. The Tigers would have been in front by a greater margin had they been able to convert on one or both breakaways they engineered earlier in the period.

A loose puck two feet outside the crease was jabbed in by BU at the 16-minute mark, and the visitors took over from there. A pair of goals in the first seven minutes of the middle period gave them a 3-1 lead, which they increased with another at 3:44 of the last. That play was started by a Tiger defender whose clearing attempt landed squarely on a BU player's stick at the blue line, exactly as one of his own teammates might have fed him.

Sophomore Frank Teshar converted for Princeton on another power play with seven seconds left. The losers were outshot, 51 to 28, and by a margin of 22-5 in the second period, the playing time that has for some reason been the cause of most of their defeats this year.

Numerous penalties to both teams marred the game, the Tigers having a man in the bin for a total of 32 minutes. The officials over-reacted to occasional flareups among the players by sending them off in pairs — one from each team.

and on one occasion, two from each.

Several of the roughing penalties could have been called fighting, but the only one that brought more than two minutes was a misconduct to sophomore defenseman Henry Lane. He drew ten minutes for telling the ref to call a BU player for interfering with Rollefstad, and the advice was unappreciated.

TIGERS FINISH THIRD In RPI Tournament. Unable to win in three games but more prolific on offense than Northeastern, Princeton's hockey team placed third in the Rensselaer Polytech Tournament. The Tigers had to rally to tie the Huskies in their final contest at 6-all, but the 11-8 edge they had in tournament scoring over Northeastern gave them the edge. The host team won the event, with Providence second.

As in three other games this season, the Orange and Black might very possibly have won had its defense been adequate.

Goals by seniors Craig Dahl and Rick Friesz and sophomore John Van Sicken got them away to a 3-0 lead, but Northeastern kept firing away at goalie Robin Rollefstad and eventually took the lead.

With just over five minutes left, freshman Craig Tresham brought the Tigers even again at 5-all, but they were behind once more in the final minute when Coach Jack Semler pulled Rollefstad. Tresham scored again with 44 seconds left to create the final deadlock, and there was no overtime.

Tresham's pair of goals marked the fourth time this season that he has scored twice in a game. His total on the season is now 10 and he seems certain, in his first year on the varsity, to take his place with the top Princeton scorers of the modern era, John McBride '60 and John Cook '63.

PRESSURE STILL ON

For Princeton Day Quintet. The Princeton Day basketball team has become Public Enemy No. 1 as far as the rest of the area prep schools are concerned.

Undeclared in nine games including two Christmas tournament championships, the Panthers are the prime target for every team they play, at least until that first loss comes along. And to make it even more difficult, this week the Blue and White must travel to the home courts of two tough opponents it has already beaten once.

Rangers Draft Koch

Randy Koch, a former Princeton resident who learned his hockey in the Pee-Wee League here, is the first pick of the New York Rangers in the amateur draft. He is currently a forward for the University of Vermont, which will be in the Yale Tournament with Princeton this weekend.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. William Koch (his father played football for Princeton), Randy played hockey at both Lawrenceville and Andover before entering Vermont. He skated on a line which was instrumental in his team's 6-5 overtime victory against Penn in the ECAC Holiday Tournament last weekend at Madison Square Garden.

Saturday night at 8 PDS will meet Peddie for the second time, having won the first meeting between the two 57-52, in the finals of the Peddie Tournament. The following Wednesday afternoon at 3:30, the Panthers must face Hun again. The Red and Black will be thirsting for revenge after the three-point PDS win in the Hightstown Tournament finals.

PDS, however, will still have plenty of incentive of its own when it plays the Raiders. The win in the Hightstown Tournament was the first in three tries against Hun, and over all the Blue and White has beaten its crosstown rival only once in six previous meetings.

Coach Alan Taback felt his team was lucky to come away with the victory, feeling that Hun's switching defense stymied the PDS offense. Turnovers and missed shots plagued both teams.

PDS got off to a five-point lead in the first period, but led by only one at the intermission. It pulled away to an eight point advantage, 36-28 late in the third stanza, but Bill Martin and Randy Melville both got into foul trouble, and Hun staged a comeback.

A five-point PDS lead with six minutes left disappeared as Hun moved up by one, 42-41 on a 20-foot jumper by Tom Dillione with 2:14 remaining. But, the losers never got another point.

Melville put PDS back in the lead for good a few seconds later, and sophomore guard Mike Waters added two insurance points from the foul line with 34 seconds left. Martin did a fine defensive job on Hun's fine sophomore Ron Payton late in the game. Payton is still not fully recovered from a broken ankle.

Melville had 11 points, Baggitt, 10 and Konstantynowicz, nine. Payton was high with 15 for Hun.

In the opening round, PDS had an easier time, beating Hightstown, 67-57. The Panthers led by one point at the end of the first quarter, and six at the intermission, 34-28. They increased the lead to nine in the third quarter, survived a brief rally by the Rams in the fourth, and made good on eight of 11 foul shots near the end to insure the victory.

Melville, who was awarded the most valuable player trophy, led all scorers with 25 points. Baggitt had 16 and Konstantynowicz, 12.

PEDDIE IS NEXT

For Princeton Day Skaters. The Princeton Day hockey team will play its third game of the season this Saturday at 7:30 away when it meets Peddie. The Panthers were scheduled to play the Wissahickon Hockey Club this Wednesday afternoon at home.

The Blue and White won its season's opener way back on December 12 against Rye, 8-1, and has not played since except for an unofficial contest against the alumni.

PHS FIVE CHAMPION

Wins Kennedy Tournament. It's been a long time since a Princeton High School basketball team won any of the trophies, but the Little Tigers PHS led by one at the half, took home an armful last week. Neither team was able to open after they defeated Southup more than a three-point Hunterdon, 53-50, in a margin in the see-saw battle tenacious battle in which the until PHS ran off seven lead changed hands 21 times.

"It's the first time we ever won a tournament that I can remember," said PHS coach Marvin Trotman. "It's great for morale purposes, the kids are really high. It's going to be good for us down the stretch."

After an eight-day layoff, the Little Tigers were scheduled to resume action this Wednesday afternoon at 3:45 against a strong Hamilton team.

Friday afternoon, PHS will play host to the Hightstown Rams in a 3:45 contest and at 3:30 Tuesday the Blue and White will host Ewing. Princeton is presently 5-1.

In the championship game against South Hunterdon, Robbie McPherson, PHS guard, was named the tournament's most valuable player. Hitting on eight one-handers from around the foul line, McPherson ended with a game-high 19 points.

Trotman was awarded a trophy as the tournament's most outstanding coach and each member of the PHS team received a trophy. "We took home a lot of hardware," said a PHS fan.

Junior Oldham, who scored 57 points in Princeton's first two games, was limited to 14 in the final, but could just have well been named the most valuable player. "Junior had an outstanding tournament," Trotman agreed, "but, overall, it was a team effort. Without the rest of the guys we wouldn't have won it."

South Hunterdon, knowing it had to contain the hot-shooting Oldham, tried to box him in, often collapsing as many as four players around him. "It was tough trying to get the ball into him but when we did he was effective," said Trotman.

Perimeter Left Open. Trotman pointed out that the Eagles' defensive tactics left the perimeter open, which McPherson and Felix Brown (10 points) were able to exploit. All of Brown's shots also came from the perimeter.

The game was tied at 13 at the end of the first period and trophies, but the Little Tigers PHS led by one at the half, took home an armful last week. Neither team was able to open after they defeated Southup more than a three-point Hunterdon, 53-50, in a margin in the see-saw battle tenacious battle in which the until PHS ran off seven lead changed hands 21 times.

In attempting a driving, lunging layup, Shawn Craig got off the shot a fraction of a second before he barrelled into the Eagles' Jeff Schermerhorn. One referee signalled a charging foul against Craig; the other ruled that Schermerhorn had "low-bridged" Craig by knocking his feet out from under him - a flagrant violation.

The latter ruling prevailed and Craig was awarded the basket and two free throws.

MVP: Robbie McPherson was named Most Valuable Player after PHS won the eight-team Kennedy Memorial Basketball Tournament in Frenchtown. He connected for a game-high 19 points in the title game--his fourth in a row in double figures.

He made both to put his team ahead by four.

Eagle coach Jack Kelly said after the game that PHS "had to use everything they had to beat us. We took away their big man."

It was a tough game, one Trotman said that, a year ago, his team would have lost. "Our kids really hung in there. They didn't lose their composure. They played well and they kept their heads. They worked as a unit. We've come so far since the beginning of the year."

It was the refusal of PHS to fall apart, to play as a unit, to look for one another and not just one man, that made the victory so sweet for Trotman, who stresses and insists on team play. The added maturity gained over the holiday weekend may have been Trotman's best Christmas present of all.

HUN IS LOSER

In Championship Game. The Hun School basketball team was almost the equal of the unbeaten, veteran Princeton Day School team after the two had squared off last week for the third year in a row in the championship game of the 17th annual Hightstown Christmas Invitational Tournament. Almost...but not quite, as the Panthers won their ninth in a row without a loss, 45-42, when they managed to nullify Hun's high-scoring Ron Payton in the final -- and decisive -- two minutes.

Hun had advanced to the finals with an opening 61-49 triumph over Lawrence High School. In the consolation game, Hightstown came from behind to defeat Lawrence High School, 59-48.

Hun will resume action Friday evening at 8 when it plays the first of three home games against Newark Academy. Monday, the Pennsylvania School for the Deaf will be here for a 3:15 contest and at 3:30 on Wednesday Hun will get another crack at Princeton Day.

Against PDS, Hun trailed by five after the first quarter and by three after three periods. But consecutive baskets by Payton, Terry McEwen and Tom Dillione put Hun ahead, 42-41, with 2:10 left. Hun was unable to score after that, however, while PDS added a clutch basket by its ace, Randy Melville, and two free throws on a 1-and-1 by Mike Walters. Payton led all scorers with 15. Dillione added 10, Nick Brady 8 and McEwen 6.

In the opener, Dillione and Brady each hit for 15 and Payton and McEwen combined for 22 more, as Hun outscored Lawrence, 20-12, in the third period to erase a one-point Cardinal half-time lead.

"We were sluggish," said Hun coach Dave Leete after the game. "We didn't get going until the third quarter when we started to shoot better."

Both teams made 24 shots from the floor but Hun outscored the losers, 13 to 1, from the foul line. Hun finished the first month of play with a 5-2 record.

MANAGER NAMED
For Montgomery Savings Branch, Walter B. Foster, president of Nassau Savings and Loan has announced the appointment of Miss Dolores Pitman to Branch Manager of the Montgomery Shopping Center Office. In announcing the appointment, Mr. Foster said, "We are always happy to promote from within, and with Miss Pitman the decision was easy."

RELOCATION PLAN SET
Offered by John Henderson. John T. Henderson, Inc., Princeton real estate broker, has announced an entirely new relocation program for all Princeton area business people.

"It is a dual concept," Mr. Henderson commented this week. "The program will help assist people leaving the Princeton area because it includes exclusive use of the nation's largest referral system providing sales assistance in the destination city with leading brokers in the new area."

"And, of course, we handle sales at this end with the area's most progressive marketing system which includes referrals from the RE-LO network of 800 brokers outside our area. It's beautiful - they send us people moving into the Princeton area and we send referrals on those people who are unfortunately enough to move away."

In the near future, Mr. Henderson will announce the new Director of Relocation and additional details of operating procedure. The new director, who will take full charge of all Henderson's corporate programs, will be headquartered at the home office at 353 Nassau Street.

evening at 8, with the jayvee bouts at 6:30.

The Pirates were also scheduled to travel to Pennington this Wednesday evening for a match with Hopewell Valley. So far, Coach Ken Bernabe's Pirate team has tied one and lost one.

The Princeton High School wrestling team is idle until January 21 when it will oppose Steinert.

TIGERS NOW 7 AND 3
Roll By William & Mary, 64-43. In a mismatch which saw Coach Pete Carril use a lineup of four reserves and one starter 15 minutes after the game had begun, Princeton coasted past William & Mary Tuesday night in Jadwin Gym, 64 to 43. The triumph, which strengthened the Tigers' hold on first place in national defensive rankings, was their seventh in 10 games.

In a contest as one-sided as this, it was difficult for players to turn in standout performances, but sophomore Frank Sowinski was the evening's exception. His 22 points (more than half the losers' total) were achieved on 5-for-8 shooting from the floor and a perfect 12-for-12 at the line.

Two of the fine Princeton forward's free throws were made after technicals had been called against the visitors for brief temper tantrums. Their outbursts were more or less excusable - the officiating was often totally devoid of logical interpretation as the rule book is written.

It figured to be a low-scoring game from the start, because the visitors, too, pride themselves on defensive skills, and came into Jadwin as the sixth best nationally. Their overall ability was, however, far short of Princeton's: witness a 71 percent shooting average in the first half for the Tigers compared to 38 for William & Mary.

As they had against Penn, the Tigers used the first half to break the game open and then kept the opposition at bay during the final 20 minutes.

SOMETHING old or new to sell. Try a Town Topics Classified. Call 924-2200 today

From the two-minute mark in the opening period to 16:21, they outscored the Indians, 30 to 11, and before that stretch was over, Carril had begun clearing his bench.

Sowinski had a dozen by the intermission, and three straight Princeton steals converted into driving layups helped subdue William & Mary early. The losers came into the contest with a 6-2 mark, but even though they are members of the well-regarded Southern Conference, their brand of opposition does not compare with the kind Princeton has been playing.

Not surprisingly in a low-scoring game marked by 22 points for one player, no other member of the winning team made it into double figures. Armond Hill with nine came closest, but neither he nor anyone else got as much playing time from Carril as Sowinski. The latter eventually fouled out, or his runaway performance would have been even more pronounced.

Foul shooting that clicked for 89 percent accuracy was another plus for Princeton. Here, too, William & Mary had a rough evening - 3 out of 9 for 33 percent.

They have been recorded by a TV production company in making a film for public educational television which deals with Afro-American history as depicted from the experiences and knowledge of older black people.

Dr. Faulkner was invited to participate in the Smithsonian Institute's Folk Lore Festival of America with 900 others from all over the world. Throughout his ministerial career and while serving as Dean of Homiletics at Fiske University, he has collected folk stories originating in West Africa, the Caribbean and the East Coast of the United States.

Following the service a coffee hour will be held in Murray-Dodge Hall to give members of the congregation an opportunity to meet Dr. Faulkner.

HIGHLIGHT OF THE WEEK

EXCITING TO LIVE IN!

Over the bridge and through the rocks and up in the trees we go! Yet for all its tree house feeling, this intriguing contemporary is solidly anchored into its rockstrewn hillside and practically planned for all age living. The entrance hall opens on a really fantastic living room, 16 x 25, with handsome raised fireplace, built-in planter and oversized sofas, and decorative divider - a combination stereo cabinet, warming counter and china cupboard - separating it from the two-story, glass walled dining area. Equally marvelous in its own way is the super kitchen-playroom-breakfast room. Four good bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, laundry room plus downstairs study and upstairs sitting room - either of which could double as bedrooms - round out the highly liveable living space.

Practical assets include: central air, burglar-fire alarm, central vacuum, dumb waiter up from underhouse carport, excellent condition, fenced child-dog area. NO grounds maintenance! Light abounds throughout from many interestingly designed windows, skylights and window walls, through the house is hidden away in a beautiful 5 acre Princeton Township setting. To top it off - a sunny roof deck is a natural for a "penthouse" garden! More land available.

A COMPLETE REAL ESTATE ORGANIZATION

A LOOK AT THE PAST

Beginning a brief and informal history of real estate in our area.

In 1664, the Duke of York made a grant of the territory lying between the Hudson and Delaware Rivers to two favorite courtiers, Lord John Berkeley and Sir George Carteret. While a Royalist leader in the Puritan Civil War, Carteret had made a defense of the Isle of Jersey in the English Channel years earlier, and the grant was named Nova Caesarea (Caesarea being the Latin name of the Isle of Jersey).

In the meantime, Colonel James Nicoll, who had been sent on expedition by the Duke of York, had made grants to settlers in the territory. The result was a dispute which would last for 100 years. The main effect seems to have been the annexation of Staten Island to New York, contrary to leaving it to more natural boundary lines.

Berkeley and Carteret split the territory into the provinces of East Jersey and West Jersey and set up a number of liberal policies designed to attract immigration. In general terms, the line ran from Little Egg Harbor to the Delaware Water Gap, with about 4,600 square miles in West Jersey and 3,000 in East Jersey.
